

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A semiconductor device with an MOS transistor gate electrode in a stacked structure comprising a silicon layer, a metal silicide layer, a reaction barrier layer such as a metal nitride layer and a metallic layer formed from the bottom upwards has an increased circuit performance owing to a gate resistance-reducing effect.